ALLIGATOR presents new TPMS universal sensor RS+.

Veitshöchheim, 13.08.2024

ALLIGATOR proudly presents its new programmable universal sensor RS+ - with a new chip generation for faster programming time, higher compatibility and improved battery life. As a universal sensor, the RS+ speaks the language of every car and thus offers a simple and practical TPMS solution for workshops.

RDKS CHALLENGES FOR THE WORKSHOP

Workshops are increasingly confronted with a large number of different tire pressure sensors. This leads to high stock levels, time-consuming vehicle-specific fitting and training processes and extended service times.

THE SOLUTION: SENS.IT RS+ - THE PROGRAMMABLE UNIVERSAL SENSOR

The sens.it RS+ offers a simple and practical solution:

- One sensor for all vehicle models: The RS+ covers 99.7% of all vehicle models and can therefore be used universally.
- Just-in-time programming: The sensor is programmed as a vehicle-specific spare part as required, which simplifies warehousing and increases flexibility.
- Short service times: Fast, standardized installation possible without waiting for the right spare part.

WHAT MAKES THE ALLIGATOR RS+ UNIVERSAL SENSOR SO SPECIAL?

- Vehicle coverage of 99.7%
- OE quality - with full OEM functionality, high-quality lithium button cell and valves made by German engineers.
- Maximum compatibility - with all commercially available diagnostic devices and standard TPMS valves.
- Free support - ALLIGATOR offers comprehensive support and is available to answer any questions.

The TPMS sensor RS+ is available with anodized aluminium valves (black or silver) as well as with a rubber valve. All products and information can be found in well-stocked specialist shops or online in the WEGMANN automotive B2B partner shop.
